

Lung Cancer 23rd of July 2007

Dear Mr. Cohen,

It is not a big issue but I got the information that a lady suffering from a small cell lung cancer and treated with a chemotherapy recovered very well. She suffered a lot from the chemical treatment and got back her quality of live through two pouches of Immunocal per day. Due the fact that she is a physician I guess she will write a report assumed that her good condition continues.

Best regards,

Wolf-Stefan Schultz

Translation

I am tumor patient and receive actually a chemotherapy with Carboplatin.

In March 2007 a small cell lung carcinoma was diagnosed. The very early loss of weight during the course of disease was remarkable as well as the hematomas on arms and legs and the gravity in arms and legs.

In early May I got knowledge of Immunocal. My attending physician – a medical professor – supported the intake of Immunocal, so I take 20g Immunocal daily. Since then I realize a steady improvement of my discomfort.

As an effect of the intake of Immunocal can be mentioned that the hematomas and the gravity in arms and legs during the chemotherapy faded away quite fast. My general condition improved quite fast which is reflected significantly in the gain of weight – from 45 to 51 kg within six weeks.

Immunocal is beside the chemotherapy the most important part on my medical treatment on the way to recover health.

Extensive Stage Small Cell Lung Cancer January 30, 2008

In September 2007, my sisters and I went to the oncologist's office with our father. This is when we found out the results of my father's bronchial symptoms, hoarseness of voice, significant weight loss, and extreme fatigue. The test results that were done the previous week confirmed that there was a large mass on his left lung that was cancerous. To our dismay, we were notified that his diagnosis was extensive stage small cell lung cancer originating out of the left lung with metastases to the brain and the right adrenal gland. At this point our father was already at stage IV.

The prognosis given by the oncologist for our father was only a 50% chance of surviving six to eight months with radiation/chemo treatment or three to six months survival without treatment. Our father's decision was to start radiation followed by chemotherapy.

I was out picking up my raw milk at a local farm where I shared my father's diagnosis with the farm owner. The owner then shared with me the phenomenal benefits of a product she was taking called Immunocal and handed me a brochure. I then took the brochure home to share with my sisters. We decided to contact the person whose name was on the back of the brochure, Kelly Howard. God bless this wonderful person. She immediately set up an appointment to meet and discuss with us the product Immunocal. She spent several hours with us informing us of the benefits of the product for treating cancer patients in addition to helping us gain knowledge and understanding of the disease cancer.

On Sept. 24, 2007 our father started radiation and experienced the side effect of fatigue. Three days later, our father decided to start taking 4 packets of Immunocal per day (2 Immunocal Platinum and 2 Immunocal). Within two days of taking Immunocal, his energy level had increased significantly. Due to this increase in energy and vitality, he was able to enjoy deer hunting, ice fishing and snowmobiling throughout his treatment.

Only three months later, the CAT scan results were as follows:

Left pulmonary apex mass	9 cm	(previously 2.2 cm)
Brain mass	5 cm	(previously 7.5 cm)
Aortic arch mass	6.7 cm	(previously 9 cm)

Aortic root mass 1.3 cm (previously 2.7 cm)

The low-density lesion seen in the tail of the liver is much smaller and barely discernable.

The oncologist stated that typically radiation/chemotherapy patients experience significant weight loss and no longer have the desire to complete the treatment. Because my father included Immunocal in his treatment plan, he has gained 17 pounds since starting his cancer treatment!! This weight gain has given him the strength to continue with chemo treatments in full while experiencing only minimal side effects of the chemotherapy.

On a personal note, my father is a divorced 66 year old who had been a smoker for 50+ years. His diet typically consists of unhealthy foods. At the time he was diagnosed with cancer, he had lost 20 pounds, weighing in at only 120! As of this date, his weight is 137 pounds! Lisa Kulhanek, Brant, MI

Lung Cancer Testimonial

Dear Leroy and Monika,

Thank you for your e-mail. I had it on my mind, to write you, sorry it took me so long. How are you doing? I am doing fine, health wise and other wise. Since I take the product, I noticed to have more energy and the "unclean" skinproblems in my face (from taking the chemotherapy) are disappearing. Beginning of the month I had the Chemo and at that time the Tumormarker was on 4.2 and when X-ray was taken from my spine, they could not find any cancerous signs on it. In May I had in my lung a metastasis of the 4 to 7 cm and 4 others of 2.5 cm in diameter. Beginning of August the bone scan and the CT showed, that there is only one Metastasis of 1.5 cm and around 10 other tiny "objects" smaller as 0.5 cm, but it is not possible to find out, if these smaller "objects" are malignant or not. After the 6. Chemo End of September, the doctor will have another test. But till then I will take the product and hopefully all readings of cancer may be of the past!

We are very happy about this news! Thanks to Jehovah, who gave to me the power beyond what is normal and all the good gifts in men, who helped me on the way of recovery.

Gaby is taking the product too and we will write you later, which improvement she will experience. Please tell me, if I should send my orders to you or directly to Canada? I got only one package of vitamins, I need 5 boxes more. With Christian love, Ingrid
